

TRIAGELunch Hour Lipo

Better than Botox and cheaper than liposuction; lipodissolve is the latest weapon in the cosmetologist's fat-busting arsenal. The treatment consists of injecting a soy lecithin substance into jiggly cellulite. Dissolutionists claim that it jacks up the natural metabolic process, the fat is melted away and then eliminated from the body. The shots leave little more than a bee sting tingle and a patch of puffiness, but quick-fixers be advised: lipo-junior is not for the obese or exercise-starved. Lipodissolve "starts a fire in an area of resistant fat and you have to burn it off," explains Dr. Martin Braun of Vancouver Laser and Skin Care Centre. Injections cost $300-$400. □
— Stephanie Kauffman

Source: BCBusiness
February 2005, p.19