

disappearing act

TEXT: CAMILLA KAY & JILL DOWN; PRODUCT PHOTOS: GEOFFREY ROSS; LASH PHOTO: GETTY IMAGES

Got a pesky breakout? Skip the cortisone shot and zap your zits with Zeno, an electronic hand-held device that uses mild heat to kill breakout-causing bacteria below the surface of skin. Designed for mild to moderate acne, it should be used at the first sight of a blemish. Place the applicator on your pimple for two minutes (repeat a maximum of three times in one day) and you'll see your blemish disappear within 24 hours. While there's no discomfort during the application, it can cause skin to redden post-treatment. It's available through dermatologists across Canada for approximately $250. Visit vancouverlaser.com or myzeno.com for more info.

L12 glow march | april 2006

Source: Glow, March/April 2006, p.112